

CORFU AND THE IONIAN GULET CRUISE

In a world that is increasingly rushed off its feet we're turning the clock back to those halcyon days where the perfect holiday was jumping on a boat somewhere and hopping from island to island. We want to take you right back to those days – although in a bit more ensuite comfort! We've planned our cruise so that you get to spend a few hours each day at sea, but get plenty of time to discover the local colour or simply sit and sip a cold beer or glass of local wine in a waterfront bar. Mostly we've picked smaller off-the-beaten track ports of call where our 12 cabin motor sailer can moor tight to the quayside and you're never more than a short stroll from the action. Along the way we regularly drop anchor so you can plunge into the clear waters and cool off. Alternatively take to the water with a kayak or SUP (stand-up paddleboard), go snorkelling, or explore uninhabited island beaches just a barefoot stroll from your floating home. Or, on bigger islands, borrow one of the onboard bicycles and pedal off on your personal voyage of discovery From the Captain down our staff are there to serve you in a friendly way and ensure you make the most of your holiday. All in all we would say it's comfortable 3 star living –and it's a really pleasant way to hop from island to island. We have a big focus on wellbeing. We encourage you to be active on the water and on land. If we find a messy beach we try and make the time to drop anchor and spend an hour or two collecting the plastic flotsam and jetsam, bagging it up and disposing of it. If you volunteer to join in you are most welcome and rewards are offered. We are all on the same team. We all eat together in the dining room at the same time, unless we're on the beach having a BBQ. Whenever we eat we try to serve organic food, sourced locally, and freshly cooked by our chefs. We have a small wine list focused on Local wines.
