The cruise port is located 12 km west of the old town.

Day 2 Kekova, Türkiye

Situated just off the Lycian coast, Kekova Island boasts a haunting beauty, with ancient ruins lying beneath its waters. The ship will sail in the area between the island and Simena Castle before staying at anchor. Passengers can go ashore at Çaya zı beach (on the mainland), where they can relax or take an optional tour. A glass-bottom boat tour will take you close to the island, offering glimpses of the sunken city of Kekova, and they you can visit the small coastal village of Kalekoy and Simena Castle. The submerged stone walls and stairways of the ancient Lycian city are visible through the clear, turquoise water. Another optional tour will take you to the ancient city of Myra, home to a remarkable Lycian necropolis. Kekova offers a serene blend of history and nature, providing a timeless vision of the Turquoise Coast of Turkiye.

Day 3 Kastellorizo, Greece

Tiny but utterly enchanting, Kastellorizo is Greece's easternmost island and lies close to the Turkish coast. Kastellorizo is small but full of color. Its harbor glows with pastel houses mirrored in the water, and the sound of waves replaces the rush of time. Stroll along the seafront promenade, where fishing boats bob beside elegant neoclassical houses, or relax at a cafe beneath flowering bougainvillea. Kastellorizo reminds you how peaceful isolation can feel when beauty is everywhere around you.

Day 4 Fethiye, Türkiye

Surrounded by forested hills and turquoise bays, Fethiye is a vibrant gateway to Turkiye's Turquoise Coast. The town combines ancient history with a relaxed modern atmosphere, where cafes overlook the marina and life flows at a gentle pace. Passengers can stroll along the waterfront, wander through Paspatur, Fethiye's old town, with its narrow streets lined with shops, cafes, and small stalls selling textiles, souvenirs, spices, fresh produce, and local handicrafts, or visit the impressive Lycian rock tombs carved into the cliffs above the town. Fethiye is also an ideal starting point for discovery, with nearby highlights such as the abandoned village of Kayakoy, scenic boat trips along the coast, and the world-famous Blue Lagoon of Öludeniz.

Day 5 Dalyan River, Türkiye

At first glance, this is a picture one hardly expects to see in Turkiye - A lovely, unspoiled lake teeming with fish, a lush marshy delta, verdant farmlands, a lazy, reedfringed river meandering into the sea. On shore, you can see ruins of the Lycian city of Caunos, with its basilica and fortifications looming over the green marsh where endangered Caretta loggerhead turtles hatch in the spring.

Day 6 Symi, Greece

One of the most elegant harbours in the Dodecanese, Symi enchants with pastel-coloured neoclassical houses rising steeply above the bay. Approaching Symi by sea is like arriving in a painting. Neoclassical houses climb up the hillsides in shades of ochre and blue, while fishing boats sway gently in the harbor below. The pace of life is unhurried: a stroll through the harbor, a swim in clear water, a quiet meal overlooking the bay.

Symi's charm lies in its simplicity, a small island that seems to exist outside of time. For those wishing to explore further, an optional excursion to the Monastery of Panormitis, dedicated to Saint Michael and located on the island's western coast, is available at an additional cost. Surrounded by cypress trees and sea views, it is one of the most revered pilgrimage sites in the Aegean. Peaceful, colourful, and full of grace, Symi is pure Greek beauty.

Day 8 Cesme, Türkiye

On Turkiye's sun-drenched Aegean coast, Çe me combines laid-back elegance with a touch of old-world charm. Passengers can stroll through its whitewashed streets, shaded by bougainvillea, and browse stylish boutiques or traditional craft shops. The marina buzzes with life - chic cafes, sailing yachts, and the scent of the sea drifting on the breeze. Whether savouring local seafood or simply watching the sunset over the castle, Çe me captures the very essence of the Turkish Riviera.

If you venture aware from it's glorious uncrowded sandy beaches, you will find yourself wandering around it's ancient cobbled streets, lined with quaint rustic homes adorned with gorgeous flora and fauna.
