

ICELAND CIRCUMNAVIGATION EXPEDITION CRUISE

Embark on an unforgettable expedition through the dramatic landscapes of Iceland, where fire, ice, and ocean meet in perfect harmony. Begin in the vibrant capital, Reykjavik, with its charming streets, striking architecture, and rich cultural life. Sail into the remote Westfjords and witness the breathtaking beauty of cascading waterfalls, including the stunning Dynjandi. Explore hidden fjords, tranquil fishing villages, and volcanic islands, where rugged cliffs and thriving seabird colonies reveal a world untouched by time. Along the way, meet Icelanders who share the myths, legends, and flavors of their land, bringing the island's history and traditions to life. From volcanic peaks and black-sand beaches to steaming geothermal pools and serene lakes, prepare for a journey where Iceland's extraordinary landscapes and captivating stories leave a lasting impression.

ITINERARY

Day 1: Arrival in Reykjavík, Western Iceland, (hotel night)

Our expedition begins in Reykjavik, a city that's both authentically Icelandic and effortlessly cosmopolitan. Explore its lively streets, visit Hallgrimskirkja, discover local museums and galleries, or join locals in a geothermal pool --the true social heart of the city.

Day 2: Welcome Aboard!

Enjoy a leisurely morning beforeboarding the Sea Spirit in theafternoon. From this moment on,roads are no longer needed, and webegin our journey off the beatenpath to discover Iceland's manywonders.

Day 3: Snæfellsnes Peninsula, Western Iceland

Often called "Iceland in Miniature," the Snaefellsnes Peninsula captures all the island's magic in one place --dramatic cliffs, black-sand beaches, lava fields, glaciers, and volcanic craters. We'll pass waterfalls and the famous Kirkjufell Mountain, known to Gameof Thrones fans as the "Arrowhead Mountain," with every view revealing a touch of Iceland's mystical soul.

Day 4: Dynjandi Waterfall —Suðureyri—Western Iceland

We explore Iceland's remote Westfjords, the island's oldest and most untouched region. A Zodiac landing brings us to Dynjandi--the "Thunderous" waterfall --a 100-meter cascade spilling over basalt steps like a giant wedding cake. Later, we visit Suðureyri, a charming fishing village where we can enjoy authentic local flavors.

Day 5: Siglufjörður and Grímsey Island — Northern Iceland

Known as the "Herring Capital of the World" in its heyday, Siglufjörðuris rich in maritime history and local character. We'll visit the award-winning Herring Era Museum, taste fresh herring with Brennivin, and stop by Frida's famous chocolate shop and the local brewery.

This afternoon, we take Zodiacs north to GrimseyIsland, which lies directly across the Arctic Circle. Here, steep cliffs teem with thousands of seabirds, emerald meadows stretch across the island, and a small 19th-century driftwood church stands as a unique Arctic landmark.

Day 6: Akureyri — Lake Mývatn, Northern Iceland

Surrounded by snowcapped peaks and the deep blue Eyjafjörður, Akureyriis the vibrant heart of the north. From here we head to the volcanic landscapes of Lake Mývatn--steaming vents, lava fields, and surreal scenery.

We visit Goðafoss, the "Waterfall of the Gods," and continue to Dettifoss, Europe's most powerful waterfall, an unforgettable force of nature.

Day 7: Seyðisfjörður, Eastern Iceland

Sailing along Iceland's rugged eastern coast, we arrive in Seyðisfjörður--a hidden gem nestled among waterfalls and misty mountains. Its colorful wooden houses, built by XIX-century Norwegian traders, line the peaceful harbor, their reflections shimmering in the still fjord waters.

Later, we visit Lake Urriðavatnto soak in a geothermal pool with sweeping views of the lake and surrounding peaks. As warm thermal waters meet the crisp mountain air, you'll feel a close connection with Iceland's raw and untouched beauty.

Day 8: Djúpivogur, Eastern Iceland

We anchor near the peaceful fishing village of Djupivogur, surrounded by rugged cliffs and calm fjords. A guided walk takes us along black-sand beaches and quiet lagoons, where puffins, Arctic terns, and other seabirds can be spotted.We explore small islands linked by natural sandbars, visit a traditional birdwatching hut, and enjoy the gentle rhythm of village life --a perfect way to experience Iceland's serene coastal beauty.

Day 9: Vestmannaeyjar Archipelago, Southern Iceland

The volcanic Westman Islands are among Earth's youngest landscapes, shaped by recent eruptions, dramatic cliffs, and thriving seabird colonies. On Heimaey, we see the impact of the 1973 Eldfelleruption, which buried part of the town in ash, and explore the EldheimarMuseum, where interactive exhibits bring this event to life.

Day 10: Reykjavík —Disembarkation

Our expedition ends in Reykjavik, but Iceland's fire-and-ice spirit lingers. Spend the morning exploring the city's galleries, shops, and cafes, or relax in a geothermal spa. Its vivid colors and dramatic landscapes make for a memorable farewell.
