

PANAMA & COSTA RICA BY SEA: THE NATURAL WONDERS OF CENTRAL AMERICA – WITH SMITHSONIAN JOURNEYS

In alliance with Smithsonian Journeys. _This cruise is part of a collection of PONANT voyages that are specially-tailored for English-speaking travelers who want to engage with the world. In addition to the usual elements of the PONANT experience, the listed price for these voyages includes transfers to and from the ship, talks and discussions aboard ship by world class experts, and a shore excursion or activity in each port of call that encourages guests to embrace the sights, sounds, tastes, and smells of the local environment and culture._ Discover Panama and Costa Rica with PONANT on this splendid 8-day cruise aboard _Le Bougainville, _which explores the region's abundant natural splendours, local indigenous communities, and the modern marvel of the Panama Canal. Your journey in Central America will start in Portobelo , Panama, a historic Caribbean harbor and designated UNESCO World Heritage site known for its impressive coastal fortifications. Here, you will have the option to experience the monumental new locks of the Panama Canal Expansion and gain insight into the engineering achievement that reshaped global maritime trade. Next visit the translucent waters of Holandes Cayes , one of the coral islets of Panama's San Blas Islands. Spend a day in this tropical paradise and enjoy the opportunity to swim and snorkel. Members of the Guna community call these islands home, and you may encounter them along the beach. After a daytime sailing from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Ocean through the world-famous Panama Canal , _Le Bougainville _calls at Balboa for an exploration of Panama City 's Old Quarter and of the region's fantastic biodiversity at the superb Frank Gehry-designed _Biomuseo_. Here, you will also visit the Punta

Culebra Nature Center at the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute (STRI) , a fascinating, open-air museum dedicated to marine science and conservation. On a specially arranged tour guided by Smithsonian staff, hear about the latest studies, observe marine species up close, and explore the unique flora and fauna of the tropical dry forest. Your final call will be in Quepos, Costa Rica, gateway to the spectacular Manuel Antonio National Park , where you will encounter myriad tropical flora and fantastic fauna, including sloths, the noisy howler monkey, the white-faced capuchin, and the tiny squirrel monkey. The combination of forest and ocean also provides a special opportunity to observe both terrestrial and sea birds--toucans, pelicans, hummingbirds, terns, and more. _The encounters with the wildlife described above illustrate possible experiences only and cannot be guaranteed._

ITINERARY

Day 1 - Colón

Col on is the second largest city in Panama , at the Caribbean entrance of the Panama Canal. Colon is today an important port, and the free trade zone created in 1953 contributed greatly to the development of the city. Colon was founded in 1850 by Americans working on the Panama railroad connecting the Atlantic and Pacific coasts through the isthmus of Panama; the city rapidly overshadowed the older Caribbean ports of Panama when the canal opened.

Day 2 - Portobelo

In theprovince of Col on, along the magnificent Caribbean coast of Panama, Portobelo is located not far from the famous canal. Given its name of "beautiful port " by Christopher Columbus , who discovered it in 1502, this charming and peaceful bay was one of the most important ports for the shipping of precious metals from the New World to Spain. Don't miss a visit to its fortifications , listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The town has preserved the strong religious and cultural traditions of its colonial past, such as the veneration of the Black Christ and a strongly-rooted Afro-Caribbean culture. The Congo ceremonies retrace the story of Spanish domination over black slaves through traditional dances and music.

Day 3 - San Blas Islands

Located on the north-east coast of Panama , the San Blas archipelago is a string of coral islands in the heart of the Caribbean Sea. More than 300 islands and cays cover an area of 300 square kilometres offering travellers a multitude of treasures. Sheltered behind a long coral reef,the San Blas Islands are full of enchanting anchorages. The long sandy white beaches bound by crystal-clear waters will allow you to relax and enjoy incredible marine fauna before engaging with the Kunas Indian community. Still subsisting on hunting and fishing, they will welcome you in their villages of bamboo houses gathered near the beaches.

Day 4 - Crossing the Panama Canal

Aboard your ship, experience something unique, that has inspired the imagination of numerous adventurers in the 20th century: sailing the Panama Canal. Its construction started in 1880 under the direction of Ferdinand de Lesseps. Abandoned then resumed, this marvel of engineering was completed by the United States and opened in 1914. The canal crosses the Isthmus of Panama and links the Atlantic to the Pacific. Including three levels of locks and by raising ships to the level of Lake Gatun, almost as if the water was a lift, it allows them to avoid having to round Cape Horn.

Day 5 - Balboa

At the entrance to the legendary Panama Canal , Balboa is one of Panama City's emblematic districts. Set among marinas, port areas and hills covered in tropical vegetation , the district looks out over the Pacific Ocean. A legacy of the American era, the district features wide avenues, leafy spaces and close proximity to the canal's infrastructure, in a setting that blends maritime activity with nature.

Day 6 - At sea

During your journey at sea, make the most of the many services and activities on board. Treat yourself to a moment of relaxation in the spa or stay in shape in the fitness centre. Depending on the season, let yourself be tempted by the swimming pool or a spot of sunbathing. This journey without a port of call will also be an opportunity to enjoy the conferences or shows proposed on board, depending on the activities offered, or to do some shopping in the boutique or to meet the PONANT photographers in their dedicated space. As for lovers of the open sea, they will be able to visit the ship's upper deck to admire the spectacle of the waves and perhaps be lucky enough to observe marine species. A truly enchanted interlude, combining comfort, rest and entertainment.

Day 7 - Quepos

Quepos makes for a charming stop-off on the Pacific coast, just next-door to the famous Manuel Antonio National Park , an untouched tropical natural reserve lined with white sandy beaches. The town's seafront is an opportunity to stroll through market stalls touting pineapples and bananas in the shade of the manchineel trees. In this coastal town criss-crossed with tree-lined streets in bloom , admire the houses and their incredible sculpted balconies. Enjoy a spot of shopping in the many traditional boutiques : pick up some handmade cotton clothing, ceramics embellished with Costa Rican designs and home decor pieces in hand-painted wood.

Day 8 - Puntarenas

The capital of the eponymous province, Puntarenas is sometimes called "the pearl of the Pacific", for its unique charm. It sits on the Pacific coast of Costa Rica, along the Gulf of Nicoya , lined with long expanses of wild natural environments. Further inland, among the countless natural wonders to be found in the generous rainforest of the Costa Rica 's national parks, Poas and Arena volcanoes towers up in all their majestic glory. In this luxuriant natural setting, Costa Rica protects one of the planet's richest biodiversity: monkeys, sloths, tropical birds, iguanas, crocodiles, waterfalls, canyons, and more than ten thousand species of tropical plants.
