VANCOUVER ISLAND'S WILD SIDE SUPERVOYAGE

A Vancouver Island Tour Unlike Any Other This trip is for those who love to adventure beyond the norm. It explores unroaded coastline accessible only by small ship. You'll walk in the rainforest, beach-comb on the sand, boat into wild creeks that empty into the sea, and cruise around Brooks Peninsula, which juts out almost to the offshore continental shelf. This journey takes you into a side of Vancouver Island that remains mostly untouched--shaped by the open Pacific, glacial headlands, old-growth rainforest, and waters rich with whales, sea otters, seabirds, and migratory marine life.
