

WINTER ADVENTURE IN LAPLAND - FOR ICE PRINCESSES AND SNOW KINGS

This cruise offers a unique spring adventure in the icy, lesser-known north of the Baltic Sea, featuring active winter experiences like snowshoe hikes, snowmobile safaris, and dog sled rides (shore activities not included). Highlights include exploring the frozen expanses of the Bothnian Sea and Bay, with potential Northern Lights sightings from the deck, and visiting Stockholm and Copenhagen during their quieter off-season. The journey, framed by scenic passages through the Stockholm Archipelago and Kiel Canal, blends expedition-style exploration with the charm of Nordic cities and the thrill of icy landscapes, starting and ending in Hamburg.

Day 2 Relaxation at sea

Cruising off the chalk cliffs of Mon

A real winter with snow and lots of light on long days - simply wishful thinking? Not at the end of March in Swedish and Finnish Lapland. Because while spring is almost upon us at home, the northern Baltic Sea is still icy and snowy. But life is awakening here too, in the middle of a wintry world where the days, which are longer again, are particularly eventful. And on starry nights, there is a good chance of admiring the magical Northern Lights in the sky. Draw on the wealth of experience of the experts on board: they will provide commentary while cruising off the chalk cliffs of Mon, their presentations turning the entire route into a journey of discovery.

Day 3 Relaxation at sea

Day 4 Cruising through the Stockholm Archipelago
Stockholm/Sweden, 9.00 - 19.00 hrs

When cruising through the Stockholm Archipelago, you will find yourself in the middle of a network of 24,000 islands. The deck provides the best views. At this time of year, away from the peak season, you will feel a serenity that makes you see Stockholm with different eyes: take a relaxed stroll through the dreamy old town, explore Stockholm on a city tour1 or visit the open-air museum Skansen.

Day 5 Expedition day in Bothnian Sea/Bothnian Bay
(depending on the weather and ice conditions)

What awaits you in the northern extension of the Baltic Sea, which is iced over until the end of April? Only a small expedition ship like the HANSEATIC nature, which is suitable for polar regions, can navigate this area. Depending on the weather and ice conditions, a flexible expedition day in the Bothnian Sea and Bothnian Bay lies ahead of you. Enjoy your exclusive front-row seat on the many open deck areas and look forward to spectacular views of the shores of Swedish Lapland.

Day 6 Lulea
Arrival 14.00 hrs

Experience the tradition and close relationship with nature of the Sami1 in snowy Lulea, an ideal starting point for discovering Swedish Lapland on a variety of tours. During a winter experience with huskies1 or a ride on a fat bike1 across the ice and snow, the city's surroundings become a real winter adventure for you. Explore the Gammelstad Church Town1 UNESCO World Heritage Site on a guided tour with insights into the northern Scandinavian past. Alternatively, winter hiking and ice fishing1 provide a taste of adventure. In clear weather, you will have a good chance of observing the Northern Lights from the deck of your ship.

Day 9 Kemi/Finland
7.00 - 19.00 hrs

The Finnish town of Kemi is situated not far from the Arctic Circle. Perhaps you would also like to try your hand at ice fishing1? Extend your knowledge about life in northern Europe in Rovaniemi1 on a visit to the Arktikum museum. You will also be amazed by the SnowCastle, a hotel and restaurant that are rebuilt every year.

Day 10 Oulu
7.00 - 18.00 hrs

Oulu is also popular among outdoor enthusiasts. How about an example? Then take a ride in a reindeer sleigh and on a snowmobile1 or go cross-country skiing through Finnish
